

I would like to remind the importance of Net neutrality on this matter, as it is often taken too lightly in most cases where law is trying to meet the internet.

In fact, if Net Neutrality is not respected, in this case as in others, Internet won't be Internet anymore.

Also, please note that filtering, and any kind of content discrimination WILL affect the Net Neutrality, and in the same movement, degrade the Internet.

If you want to keep Internet, I suggest you take all these considerations really seriously.

Thank you for the time you took reading me.
