

Dear members of the On-line gambling in the Internal Market commission,

A French Internet user, I am very keen on the principle of Internet neutrality. La Quadrature du Net, a French organisation that defends these principles, has done a great deal of research on the subject of the enforcement of intellectual property rights and sent you a response to your consultation ;

I wish you to know that I fully support their stance.

Please excuse me for answering at the last moment.

Yours respectfully,

Jordan Bouyat, student, Limoges, France
